CALLING ALL WIZARDS!

Play Our Harry Potter Trivia Game!

The Library has teamed up with the NRHS Art Department students and several Stony Point businesses for a Harry Potter trivia game!

Here's how to play:

1. During the month of July, view the window displays at the following local businesses and try to solve the trivia question:

B's Nest Deli
Homestead Hardware
Shell Ann Printing
Stony Point Pharmacy

2. Enter the store to receive a specially designed bookmark to confirm you've been to each location.
3. Write your answer on the back of the bookmark.
4. Bring all collected bookmarks to the Rose Memorial Library for verification of your answer(s) and a chance to win a Harry Potter themed prize!

All community members are invited to participate. There is no fee to enter.

Help Us Celebrate Harry's Birthday!

Staff Picks

Looking for something new? Here's what we've been reading, watching, or listening to...

Georgia suggests:

"The Baker's Secret" by: Stephen P. Kiernan

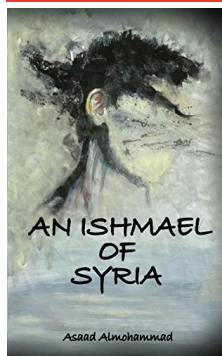

The story takes place in Nazi occupied France just before D-Day, and tells of a young apprentice baker named Emmanuelle who inherits the business because the Nazi's shot the baker, then tell her they want all her bread. If she resists she dies, and if she complies the village starves. She covertly helps her village. It is a story well told, documenting the events of D-Day and the gratefulness of a village for sacrifices the Allied troops made in the name of freedom.

Marie-Elena suggests:

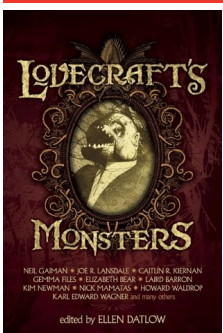

"An Ishmael of Syria" by: Asaad Almohammad

An Ishmael of Syria by Asaad Almohammad is the story of Adam, an exiled Syrian living in Malaysia as his family still lives in his war-torn homeland. This powerful and thought-provoking book challenges narratives of prejudice, stereotypes and war. If you're looking for something current, semi-autobiographical, and challenging - this is the book for you.

Oscar suggests:

"Lovecraft's Monsters" by: Ellen Datlow, ed.

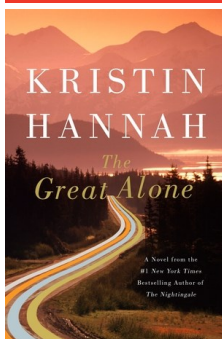

This book is a short fiction anthology themed around the works of horror author H.P. Lovecraft... but you won't find any pastiches or predictable narratives here! Editor Ellen Datlow has gathered together a truly unique collection of stories (and even some poems) that explores the Lovecraft Mythos in new and surprising ways. Standout favorites include: "Remnants" by Fred Chappell, "Waiting at the Crossroads Motel" by Steve Rasnic Tem, and "The Same Deep Waters as You" by Brian Hodge.

Gretchen suggests:

"The Great Alone" by: Kristin Hannah

This is an engrossing story of a family living in the wilds of Alaska. There is some drama and turmoil in the family which kept me turning the pages but what I enjoyed most was the description of just how life is when living in these rustic conditions. The few people living there rely on each other and work together as a community to survive. Interestingly, the author grew up in Alaska so her description of this life is quite accurate.

Come enjoy our Summer Programs at the Library...

Good news: We are restoring the Museum Passes now that Annual Appeal donations have covered their cost. The Intrepid (and the Space Shuttle Pavilion + the Submarine Growler), American Museum of Natural History, Boscobel, Hudson Highlands Nature Museum, and Storm King all have passes for your family summer visits. Call ext 11 to reserve and come in to pick-up.

Planning for the July 31st event: Birthday Party for Harry Potter is in full swing. The highlight will be a fun time for kids with some things for adults as well. Come dress in HP attire if you wish, see the live owls, the hands-on crafts for kids (wands, HP glasses, the sorting hat for house assignments and more). If it works out we'll also have a Quidditch demonstration. Baked goodies in the HP-style will also be for sale.—Jim Mahoney, Library Director
